EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

The defining characteristic of the new NDA Cabinet is not the induction of Ministers from non-BJP allies like TDP, JD(U) or Shiv Sena, but the strengthened presence of battle-hardened senior politicians from BJP itself.

Yesterday's swearing-in ceremony had the usual hallmarks of a Modi political extravaganza, with PMs from neighbouring countries, CMs and powerful politicians, showbiz and business celebs in attendance. The real hint, that this time things are different from 2014 and 2019, came from the overall Ministry's sheer size, with more than 70 Ministers sworn-in, including 30 of Cabinet rank. More parties and interests had to be accommodated.

Message to allies, opposition: The unstated message in this choice of Ministers is that while BJP does not have a majority of its own, it does not lack high-quality political talent to serve as a counterweight to the new inductees from powerful regional allies.

This is sensible, for unlike the last Cabinet, which was deferential to the PM in most meetings, this time there could be pushback from Ministers sent in by the allies. Modi is fortifying his Cabinet with people who can hold their own when push comes to shove.

A significant absence from the Ministry was Ajit Pawar's NCP, which got only one seat in Maharashtra and was reportedly offered only an MoS position. Praful Patel, working President of NCP, has gone on record to say that he could not accept an MoS position, having already served as Cabinet Minister in UPA.

This could also be an indirect hint to NCP that equations in Maharashtra could change again before the Assembly elections. Who knows, a reach-out to Uddhav Thackeray's Shiv Sena — which can't happen without an implicit understanding or merger with Shinde Sena — may be the option BJP is working on behind the scenes!

The presence of such a high-power BJP list may also be intended to give the party a strong presence in Parliamentary debates, where Opposition will be more aggressive than before. The allies may not always want to speak up on issues they are uncomfortable with.

Modi 3.0, or NDA 3.0, is preparing for the storms ahead. —R. Jagannathan in The Times of India

Man's colon falls out after 'forceful' sneeze

Florida: A man's colon was put back into his body after it fell out after a "forceful" sneeze, as per a report. The 63-year-old from Florida was having breakfast with his wife at a restaurant when the incident took place.

A recent paper published in the American Journal of Medical Case Reports said, "During breakfast, the man sneezed forcefully, followed by coughing. He immediately noticed a 'wet' sensation and pain in his lower abdomen. Looking down, he observed several loops of pink bowel protruding from his recent surgical site."

The man covered the exposed intestines with his shirt while his wife called for an ambulance. Fortunately, the man had not lost much blood, and he was taken quickly to a local hospital where the eviscerated bowel was carefully put back into the abdominal cavity by three surgeons. To ensure that the abdomen did not pop open again, the three urological surgeons closed it with a sequence of figure-of-eight stitches, which are among the strongest closures.

World's widest avenue has 16 lanes

Buenos Aires: Avenida 9 de Julio in Buenos Aires, Argentina, holds the Guinness Record for the widest avenue in the world. It features 16 lanes, so crossing from one side to the other is quite an undertaking.

The history of Avenida 9 de Julio can be traced back to the glory days of the Argentinian capital. Buenos Aires was called the 'Paris of South America', so authorities decided to build a monumental piece inspired by Paris' Champs Elysee. They wanted something larger and settled on an urban highway passing through city centre. It was a colossal project that took almost half a century to finish, but in 1980, Avenida 9 de Julio was finally completed. It still holds the record for 'world's widest avenue'.

Rain stalls Solid Waste Clearance Drive

MCC to take Police protection to dump waste at Old Kesare Solid Waste Treatment Plant

Mysuru, June 10 (RK&BCT)- The disposal process of an estimated seven lakh tonnes of legacy waste (solid waste) at the Sewage Farm in Vidyaranyapuram, which has remained undisposed for the past 20 years, has been delayed due to continuous rainfall. The process was scheduled to begin yesterday (June 9).

For the work to commence, the rain needs to completely stop, allowing the necessary machinery to be set up for processing dry and wet waste. M/s D.H. Patel Hardik Bhikhabhai Khunt, a Surat-based company, has secured the Rs. 59 crore tender to clear the waste systematically and scientifically.

Speaking to the Star of Mysore this morning, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) Superintending Engineer K.J. Sindhu, who is also the Deputy Commissioner (Development), stated that the company has brought the required machinery to be installed at the Plant for processing and segregating waste.

"The company has also completed the civil works needed to set up the Treatment Plant, but the rain has hampered the process. Unless the rains stop, the machinery cannot be erected, and waste processing cannot start," she explained.

The machinery is essential to separate compost, soil, metal, and plastic from the waste, facilitating the recycling of materials that are fit for reuse. A significant amount of plastic waste will be used in cement production, she added.

An estimated 450 to 500 tonnes of solid waste is generated in the city daily, but only 250 tonnes are being disposed of, leaving the remaining 250 tonnes to add to the mounds of waste at the Sewage Farm over the last 20 years.

Old Kesare Waste Plant row

Meanwhile, fresh waste continues to be dumped at the Vidyaranyapuram Plant as residents of Kesare have objected to the dumping of waste at the Old Kesare Solid Waste Treatment Plant.

Last week, vehicles heading to the Kesare Plant to dump waste were turned back by angry residents. Members of the Janaspandana Hitarakshana Samithi, along with many residents, halted over 25 vehicles carrying garbage to the Solid Waste Treatment Plant, forcing them to return.

Taking the protests seriously, the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) has decided to secure Police protection to dump the fresh waste generated in the city.

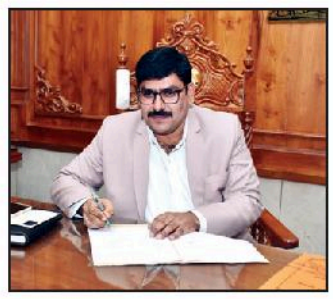
Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff back as MCC Commissioner



Mysuru, June 10 (RK&DM)- Following the lifting of the Model Code of Conduct for the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, senior Karnataka Municipal Administrative Service (KMAS) Officer Ashaad-Ur-Rahman Shariff has returned as the Commissioner of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC).

He took charge of the post this morning at the MCC Main Office on Sayyaji Rao Road.

Shariff, who was appointed as MCC Commissioner in August 2023, was transferred from Mysuru to Vijayapura in March this year following the directions of the Election Commission of India (ECI) and subsequently, the Government appointed senior KAS Officer Dr. N.N. Madhu, who was serving in Women and Child Development Department at Bengaluru, as the new MCC Commissioner.

In the transfer order then, the State Government had said that Shariff can come back as MCC Commissioner after the Poll Code was lifted.

Dr. Madhu had taken charge as the MCC Commissioner in March 2024 and served in the post for almost three months. However, Dr. Madhu was not present when Shariff took charge as the MCC Commissioner this morning, it is learnt.

After assuming Office, Shariff held a series of meetings with the MCC officials on addressing rain-related issues and UGD problems.

Blackmail, suicide pact near MM Hills

One more dies in hospital; Accused arrested

Three Cops including K.R. Nagar Inspector suspended for not registering complaint

K.R. Nagar/Chamarajanagar, June 10 (SS&KS)- A youth, who allegedly blackmailed a family by threatening to leak private videos of a minor girl, leading to the family of four consuming poison at Talabetta near Male Mahadeshwara Hills in Chamarajanagar district on Saturday, has been arrested yesterday by K.R. Nagar Police.

Arrested youth has been identified as Lokesh from Cheeranahalli. The tragic incident resulted in deaths of two family members and left two others in critical condition. Among the four who consumed poison, Mahadeva Nayaka (65) died on Saturday, while his daughter Leelavathi passed away at Chamarajanagar Institute of Medical Sciences (CIMS) Hospital this morning.

Accused Lokesh

Deceased Leelavathi

Mahadeva Nayaka's wife, Gowramma, and their 17-year-old granddaughter, who are undergoing treatment at CIMS Hospital, are said to be in critical condition. They are residents of Chandagalu in K.R. Nagar taluk.

Lokesh allegedly deceived the minor girl into believing he was in love with her and allegedly recorded her private videos. He then threatened her to leak the videos, which drove the distressed family to consume poison.

Following the incident, K.R. Nagar Police initially hesitated to register an FIR due to the accused's perceived political influence. However, they eventually registered a case against Lokesh only after facing public pressure following the death of Mahadeva Nayaka.

Residents of Chandagalu staged a protest in front of K.R. Nagar Police Station yesterday, demanding the arrest of the accused within 24 hours and threatening to intensify their protest if action was not taken promptly.

Levelling money laundering charges

Cybercriminal forces city doctor to pay Rs. 2.5 lakh

Mysuru, June 10 (SBD&BCT)- A doctor in Mysuru has fallen victim to a sophisticated cyber scam involving threats of money laundering, resulting in a loss of Rs. 2.5 lakh under the guise of verification.

The incident came to light when Dr. Pavan, a Mysuru-based physician and a native of Haveri district in North Karnataka, reported the scam to the Krishnaraja Police.

The elaborate fraud began on April 25 at 12.30 pm, when Dr. Pavan received a call from an individual claiming to be an officer from the Telecom Authority of India.

The caller alleged that Dr. Pavan's mobile number, linked to his Aadhaar number, was being used for illegal activities and that an FIR had been filed against him.

The caller instructed Dr. Pavan to visit the Tilak Nagar Police Station in Mumbai immediately.

When Dr. Pavan explained he could not travel due to his professional commitments, the caller connected him with individuals posing as Sub-Inspector Dixit and IPS officer Vishwas Patil.

Dr. Pavan was informed that his Canara Bank account was involved in a Rs. 2.5 crore illegal transactions that amounted to money laundering. Fake bank statements and a copy of an FIR were sent to his WhatsApp number to support the claim.

On April 27, Dr. Pavan received another WhatsApp call from a different number, claiming that money had been transferred into his account as part of a money laundering investigation.

He was told to verify the legality of the funds by sending his account balance to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

A fake order, purportedly from the RBI, threatened arrest if he did not comply.

Believing the threats, Dr. Pavan transferred a total of Rs. 2.5 lakh in instalments, beginning with an initial Rs. 50,000. The funds were transferred online to various accounts.

On May 8, during a visit to Haveri, Dr. Pavan realised he had been scammed. He immediately reported the incident to the Haveri Police and filed an online FIR. The doctor later returned to Mysuru and filed a formal complaint with the Krishnaraja Police.

This case is part of a growing trend where cyber criminals collect Aadhaar and mobile numbers to dupe unsuspecting victims by posing as law enforcement officials and sending fake documents.

Authorities urge anyone receiving similar threats to visit their nearest Police Station immediately rather than comply with the scammers' demands.

Kuvempunagar Inspector Yogeesh said that clues have been gathered about other accused — Ravichandra's brother Kumar, mother Sharada, aunt Padma and her son Karthik — who have gone absconding and steps have been taken to arrest them.

It may be recalled that following alleged dowry harassment from Vidya's husband and his family members, Abhishek had gone to Ravichandra's house to bring her back, during which Ravichandra had reportedly stabbed him on his chest and Ravichandra's brother Kumar, mother Sharada, aunt Padma and her son Karthik brutally assaulted the severely bleeding Abhishek with sticks leading to his death. Abhishek's friend Gautham, who was with him, was also assaulted resulting in serious injuries.

VOICE OF THE READER

Stop vehicles entering Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway from unmonitored entry points

Sir,

This is to bring to your attention a matter of public safety and fairness concerning the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway. As a regular commuter, who abides by the rules, I have observed a troubling pattern where vehicles are entering the highway from unmonitored entry points, particularly near the Bidadi bridge, leading to increased traffic congestion and hazardous driving conditions.

These unauthorised entries not only compromise the integrity of the toll system but also pose a significant risk to those who have paid their dues and expect a smooth and secure commute. The lack of enforcement by the authorities has resulted in avoidable accidents and unjust fines for lane changes made to evade these vehicles.

The highway is riddled with similar unguarded entry and exit points, which is grossly unfair to the paying users. It is disheartening to witness the indifference of the National Highways Authority of India (NHAI) toward this exploitation of the system.

The need of the hour is immediate corrective measures. We must ensure that the 10-lane access-controlled highway/expressway is a safe and equitable passage for all and that the toll revenues are justly utilised for the maintenance and betterment of our roads.

PM Modi takes oath for record third term

New Delhi, June 10 (UNI& Agencies)- Narendra Modi took the oath for a third consecutive term as Prime Minister, along with 72 Ministers, at the Rashtrapati Bhavan last night at 7.15 pm. With this milestone, 73-year-old Narendra Modi equalled the feat of Jawaharlal Nehru, who won three straight terms as India's first Prime Minister.

While PM Modi has secured another five years in power, this is the first time he will be sharing power after the BJP lost its outright majority in Lok Sabha following a fiercely fought election.

The swearing-in ceremony took place on the lawns of Rashtrapati Bhavan, with President Droupadi Murmu administering the oath of office to Narendra Modi and his Council of Ministers.

This morning, Prime Minister Modi arrived at the South Block to assume office for his third term. The first meeting of the third Narendra Modi Cabinet is likely to be held today around 5 pm at the Prime Minister's Lok Kalyan Marg residence. The PM has no bilateral meetings scheduled with foreign leaders for the day.

In keeping with 'coalition dharma,' the new Council of Ministers will be 72-strong and include 11 Ministers from NDA partners. The Modi 3.0 team will feature 30 Cabinet Ministers, 5 Ministers of State with Independent Charge and 36 Ministers of State. The portfolios will be announced later.

Modi has assured the people of India that his Government will work with the same commitment to fulfil their aspirations. The new coalition Government, as Modi emphasised, aims to foster unanimity and improve the lives of middle-class citizens.

A broad representation

The Council of Ministers has a broad representation of social groups, including 27 Other Backward Classes (OBC), 10 Scheduled Castes (SC), 5 Scheduled Tribes (ST) and 5 minorities. 5 Ministers from Karnataka

With Kumaraswamy as a Minister, JD(S) first family returns to Centre after 28 years

Kumaraswamy Nirmala Pralhad Joshi Somanna Shobha

New Delhi, June 10 (UNI& Agencies)- Prime Minister Narendra Modi's new Council of Ministers has 13 Ministers from Southern India.

Five of the 13 Southern Ministers, including former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, are from Karnataka, BJP's only bastion in the South, which delivered 19 of the 28 Lok Sabha seats to the NDA. The BJP won 17 seats and Kumaraswamy's Janata Dal (Secular) won two.

In addition to Kumaraswamy, the Council of Ministers includes Nirmala Sitharaman and Pralhad Joshi, who were part of the previous Cabinet. Shobha Karandlaje, who served as Union Minister of State in the previous Modi Government and former State Government Minister V. Somanna, both from BJP, also took the oath.

Joining the Narendra Modi 3.0 Cabinet, H.D. Kumaraswamy has finally secured a Central Ministerial berth, a position the JD(S) had not achieved since 1996 when Deve Gowda became Prime Minister. Kumaraswamy is Gowda's younger son.

Standing out among the other NDA partners, Kumaraswamy, dressed in a traditional 'panche' (dhoti), has had a remarkable journey from Bengaluru to Delhi. What began as a political move to save the JD(S) from splitting in the early 2000s has now cemented the JD(S)'s future with the backing of the BJP.

The 64-year-old Vokkaliga leader has openly expressed his ambition to become the Agriculture Minister. By winning the Mandya LS seat by a margin of 2,84,620 votes, Kumaraswamy has not only reclaimed the JD(S)'s lost stronghold but also demonstrated that the party remains a significant player in Karnataka politics through its alliance with the BJP. Kumaraswamy defeated Venkataramane Gowda of the Congress by a margin of 2,84,620 votes.

Kumaraswamy's pro-farmer and rural-friendly initiatives, such as farm loan waivers and the 'gram vastavya' project, earned him popularity during his tenure as the Chief Minister. He is a science graduate and his wife, Anitha, is a former MLA.

A glimpse of PM Modi's three electoral wins

2014, 2019, 2024

New Delhi, June 10 (Agencies)- Though Narendra Modi could not lead his party, the BJP, to a clear majority for the third time in the 2024 general elections, he is retaining the top seat in India for the third consecutive term.

Modi's tenure as Prime Minister began with his landslide victory in the 2014 general elections, where he secured 282 seats out of 545 with a 31 percent vote share. The Indian National Congress (INC), which had been in power until then, faced a shocking defeat, securing just 44 seats and a 19.31 percent vote share.

In the 2019 Lok Sabha polls, the Modi-led BJP achieved an even greater victory, winning 303 seats. The INC, in its worst performance since its establishment, secured merely 52 seats. The National Democratic Alliance (NDA) secured 353 seats, while the United Progressive Alliance (UPA) managed only 91.

The 2024 LS polls seemed to be headed towards a predictable third win for BJP. This time, Congress united all Opposition parties against ruling BJP to form I.N.D.I.A bloc. Although exit polls and analysts anticipated a clear majority for BJP, the party, while emerging as the winner, could not cross the 272 majority mark.

With a surprising dip in vote share and seat count, BJP bagged 240 seats, while Opposition's I.N.D.I.A bloc won 234 seats. Congress saw a revival, securing 99 seats, nearly doubling its 52-seat count from the 2019 polls. Despite this, Modi has formed the Government for the third time, in coalition with his allies TDP and JD(U), holding a combined total of 293 seats.

India spiritually opulent country: Suttur Seer

Mysuru, June 10 (PM&TRR)- "India is spiritually an opulent country and it can provide the needed spiritual power to the people at anytime and that is the specialty of India. God is an inseparable part of Indians and because of this, India is contributing to the world in a special way," opined Suttur Mutt Seer Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji.

But Indians have special relationship with God for having an inseparable connection with God. When people across the globe think that we all are children of God, we can witness many changes. If people have faith in God and then everything will fall in place by his grace. Mutts and other religious organisations are trying their best to promote devotion among the people," said Sri Shivarathri Deshikendra Swamiji.

Federation of Basava Balagas President Pradeep Kumar feted

Mysuru, June 10 (BLU&DM)- Large and Medium Scale Industries Minister M.B. Patil said that all Lingayat sub-castes, which are scattered across the State, must unite for the sake of social growth, academic excellence and economic prosperity.

He was speaking at the Basava Jayanti celebrations organised by Akhila Bharata Veerashaiva-Lingayat Mahasabha in association with Veerashaiva-Lingayat Associations and Basava Balagagala Okkoota (Federation of Basava Balagas) at Maharaja's College Grounds here yesterday.

Maintaining that it is not wrong to seek reservation for our community children, Patil said that many Lingayat sub-castes have not found place in the Central list of Backward Classes, which lapse need to be corrected.

"It is unfortunate that Basavanna's dreams of building an equal society still remains unfulfilled. Had his dreams come true, then India would have become Basava Bharat," he said.

Regretting that the society in Northern and Southern parts of the State are yet to come together, he appealed Suttur Mutt Seer to take the lead in uniting the society of the two regions.

"We must worship our religion. But at the same time, we must also respect other religions. The concept of Basavanna's Anubhava Mantapa runs in our blood," he said while reiterating that all Lingayat sub-castes should unite.

Social Welfare Minister Dr. H.C. Mahadevappa said that Basava Jayanti is symbolic of eradication of the caste system. The Jayanti is against superstitions, pro-Sanatan and exploitation. It is unfortunate that the country is still suffering from the ills of the caste system, he said adding that everyone should follow the principles of Basavanna.

Animal Husbandry Minister K. Venkatesh said that transformation in society can happen only if we follow the ideals of Basavanna. He highlighted how Basavanna brought about societal change in the 12th century itself through Anubhava Mantapa.

MLC Dr. Yathindra Siddaramaiah said that Basavanna gave Lingadeekshe to all communities at a time when Janivara (sacred thread) was meant only for the upper cases. Contending that it was Basavanna who gave the first concept of Parliament through his Anubhava Mantapa, he said that the great social reformer gave a new direction to the society that was stagnant.

Recalling that at the start, it was G.R. Channabasappa, who steered the Okkoota for several years, he said that several organisations have been celebrating Basava Jayanti in localities with the support of the Okkoota, which is a good development. It is a matter of joy that the Jayanti is being celebrated on a grand scale this year, he added.

Pointing out that the Okkoota President M. Pradeep Kumar has worked day and night for the success of the celebration, Thontadarya said that many of the invitees to Basava Jayanti celebration here were absent as they were in Delhi to take part in the swearing-in ceremony of Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Former MLA C.S. Niranjankumar, in his address, said that the community will suffer if the society stands divided. Stressing on the need for forging unity among all sub-castes of the community and keeping away all other issues, he emphasised the need for organising the community in a proper and steady manner.

WORD OF THE DAY

Incognito

Pronunciation: in-kahg-NEE-toh (adjective or adverb)
Meaning: When you go incognito, your true identity is kept secret (as through the use of a different name or a disguise). Incognito can be used either as an adverb or an adjective with the same meaning.
Origin: The ancient Romans knew that there are times when you don't want to be recognised. For example, a story in Ovid's Metamorphoses tells how Jupiter and Mercury visited a village incognito and asked for lodging. The supposedly penniless travellers were turned away from every household except that of a poor elderly couple named Baucis and Philemon; the pair provided a room and a feast for the visitors despite their own poverty. The Romans had a word that described someone or something unknown, like the gods in the tale: incognitus, a term that is the ancestor of our modern incognito. Cognitus is a form of the Latin verb cognoscere, which means "to know" and which also gives us recognise and cognisance, among other words.
Example: "Though legitimate reasons exist for sailing incognito, the researchers point to a number of suspicious sites of activity. These include a region in North Korean waters that the authors suggest corresponds to illegal fishing, having briefly boasted the world's highest density of fishing vessels between 2017 and 2019. Meanwhile the Great Barrier Reef Marine Park, off the eastern coast of Australia, was visited by an average of three fishing vessels a day, suggesting possible unobserved environmental damage." — The Economist, 6 Jan. 2024

THE ODD WORD

Laconic

Expressing much in few words;concise.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Wag the Dog

Meaning: The phrase 'Wag the Dog' is used to indicate that attention is purposely being diverted from something of greater importance to something of lesser importance.
Origin: The term 'Wag the dog' comes from the expression that a dog is smarter than its tail, but if the tail were smarter than the dog, the tail would be in control.
Example: "He's wagging the dog to keep you from discovering the truth about the car wreck."

World Milk Day

MyMUL organises bike rally to promote 'Nandini' products

Mysuru, June 10 (MTY&VNS)- Mysuru Milk Union Limited (MyMUL), as a part of World Milk Day, had organised a bike rally to promote 'Nandini' products in city recently.

The rally, which was flagged off in front of MyMUL at Alanahalli, passed through Teresian College Circle, Nazarbad, Jayachamaraja Wadiyar Circle (Hardinge Circle), Gun House Circle, before culminating at Shakthidhama. Participants were seen holding placards promoting 'Nandini' products.

Speaking on the occasion, Karnataka Milk Federation (KMF) Managing Director M.K. Jagadish said that the World Milk Day was being organised to promote the importance of milk worldwide and also to increase the production of milk and its usage.

"Milk being a complete food is used by people of all age groups as it provides necessary nutrients to maintain physical health," he said and added that KMF had created an history on May 31 with a storage of 94.26 lakh kgs of milk.

Stating that KMF had a vision of storing one lakh kgs of milk in the days to come, Jagadish said that the Federation was successful in meeting the customer demands by providing necessary supply of milk, curd and buttermilk despite soaring summer.

"We have sold 39,000 litres of ice cream compared to 16,000 litres last year. With the increase in production, we have been selling two lakh litres of 'Nandini' milk in Mumbai every day. KMF has also plans to increase the sale by one lakh litres in Mumbai and 50,000 to one lakh litres in Chennai where we are currently selling 35,000 litres of milk. We are also in discussion to start 16 Nandini parlours in association with BSNL," said Jagadish.

MyMUL Managing Director B.N. Vijaykumar, who too spoke, said that the milk union in Mysuru was celebrating the World Milk Day for the past three years.

"While we held a jatha in the first year, last year the celebration was held in association with various ashrams and this year through a bike rally. Milk has all kinds of minerals and nutrients. It is important to consume milk for good health," he said.

MyMUL Marketing Manager H.K. Jayashankar, Administrative Officers and staff were present on the occasion.
